What does it really cost to...

SEND A KID TO KAMP?

Everywhere you go everyone is talking about the economy and what it means to them. Well here at Kamp Dovetail we aren't any different. Yes it is that wonderful time of year again for Kamp Dovetail. But the economic situation has unfortunately made an impact here as well. Last year the volunteer staff, board, Linda and many of the volunteers have come up with ways to tighten the belt and cut out things while still keeping the Kamp Dovetail experience alive. Some examples of change include Kamp ending early so one dinner was not served. Campers did not make lanyards, or swim on Friday, and volunteers only received the Kamp T-shirt if they paid for them. There were additional cost cutting measures that happened with every activity, but the volunteers and staff worked hard to be creative and maintain the overall feeling of Kamp. Unfortunately, the economic situation has not improved this year.

The board considered having to make cuts again this year but decided to maintain the current expenses and continue efforts to cover costs. The cash cost based on last year's financial statement was $250 per camper. Even though the fundraising events have not significantly increased in amounts raised, the board determined that the plan to cover these expenses was reasonable and no individual campers would be cut from the program. With much consideration the board did decide to raise the registration fee to $40 to help off set some of the cost. As in the past, scholarships were available for those unable to afford the registration fee.

KAMP Dovetail Under the Sea

This year, KAMP Dovetail is going "Under the Sea". There will be over 300 kids with disabilities participating in wet and wild fun at Rocky Fork State Park the third week of June. During the week we have some awesome activities planned and cool visitors. Rumor has it, some sea animals may even come for a visit one evening.

While we "roll with the tide" we will be participating in boating, horseback riding, arts and crafts, dancing, singing, fishing, sports and so much more. Our sailors are working out all the kinks so we are ready for every possible squall. Water games will be held during the Ocean AUCTION. Many bidders have been invited to come to bid on the wonderful items that will be offered Wednesday night June 19th beginning at 7 pm.

Of course, the divers are gearing up and impatiently waiting for the splashing to begin. If you are interested in being on the U.S.S. KAMP Dovetail Manifest, call the Capitan at (937) 393 - 1904 ext 131.

During the third week of June (17th - 21st) we'll be out to sea. Come out for a visit. Who Knows? You may be swept away by a tide of fun as we go Under the Sea.
